No More Dust.

VETERAN DUST EXTERMINATOR SWEEPING COMPOUND

is the successful result of years of diligent study and careful experiment. It is not a liquid, but is manufactured in granulated form. An every day necessity, not a luxury. It absorbs dirt and prevents dust from rising during the process of sweeping. It makes bare floor clean and smooth, saves scrubbing, kills the dust and germs, brightens up old carpets and rugs, obviates disastrous consequences of an inevitable cloud of dust while sweeping the old way.

Used on Floors, Tiles, Linoleums, Oil Cloths, Carpets and Rugs, and possesses properties that firmly grip the dust and dry-cleans them.

Practically Indispensable for Dwellings, Offices, Stores, Warehouses, Public Buildings, Schools, Colleges, Hospitals, Churches, Theatres, Halls, Restaurants, Hotels, Factories or whatever microbe-infested dust accumulates on floor space.

It is inexpensive; pays for itself by saving hundreds of dollars in damaged goods each year, and it is guaranteed to do the work of exterminating dust.

Dust Breeds Consumption
Dust is extremely disagreeable as well as dangerous, everybody admits that and argument is unnecessary. Dust is destructive, hence the necessity of using a Sweeping Compound of Established reputation and dependable quality, being guaranteed Antiseptic and a Disinfectant.

Carpets, Rugs and Art Squares

Why take up carpets and beat them to pieces when the Veteran Dust Exterminator Sweeping Compound will gradually clean them where they are and bring back their original colors on the floor without taking them up?

This sweeping Compound does not lay the dust, but removes it from the floor by absorption. No dust rises and sweeping becomes an unalloyed pleasure instead of nasty drudgery.

A Fish That Gives Pain.

The well known brown pigment called sepiol is obtained from a ten armed octopus found principally in the Mediterranean and more especially at the head of the Adriatic sea, where it is caught by the natives for food.

The sepiol is contained in a bag and is really the black fluid of which we have all read as being discharged by the creature to cover its escape. Some naturalists say that the fluid is brownish, which becomes more credible when we know that this is the source of sepiol. The pigment is really a powder which dissolves in water. Its strength may be estimated by the fact that it will color 1,000 times its own bulk. When the octopus has been killed the sack or bag is removed and dried to prevent putrefaction. The sepiol is treated with ammonia or caustic soda, washed and dried. It is one of the most durable of pigments, except when fully exposed to the fierce rays of the sun, and an even surface can be obtained with it more easily than with most pigments. Sepiol has been obtained from a fossil cuttlefish thousands of years old and found to be quite good for paint.

The Change From Black to Red.
"See that little woman who just went out?" remarked a Fourth avenue milliner to a customer. "Noticed that red hat, did you? Well, as a milliner and a person whose business it is to study the different characteristics of women I have watched her for two years. It has been a kind of study of the 'evolutions of a widow.'"

"Two years ago she came to me, recently bereaved, and had me make her a hat of deepest black. She was broken hearted and declared she would never again take an interest in the pretty things that women like to wear. A year ago she came again."

"Don't you think I might have the least bit of white in my new hat?" she asked.

"Yes," I said; "I think you might," and the hat was made. Three months later she came for another hat, and she stood for a little touch of lavender. Next she had a big white plume, and last week I made her that red hat. It just shows what time will do to lifting up a heart bowed down."

—Louisville Times.

The Releaser.

If he hadn't been a dreadful bore and the hour wasn't so late it is quite possible the lovely girl would have refrained from the exercise of a strategic scheme, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer.

"Hark!" she whispered as he paused in the midst of a long winded description of his camping outfit.

"What is it?" he whispered in return.

She smiled reassuringly.

"It's only papa. He must be oiling the releaser."

"And what is the releaser?"

"It's one of papa's ingenious schemes. Every night, at exactly 11 o'clock, he pulls up a brass chain that releases our brindle bull pup from his annex adjoining the kitchen; that's all."

And she laughed merrily. The caller glanced at the clock on the mantel. It indicated 10:57.

"I and I must go," he said in a slightly hurried manner. "And good night."

Punishment For Perjury.

Perjury is a crime more severely punished in Germany than in any other country in the world. Even an apparently trivial misstatement under oath carries a sentence of ten years in prison. Excepting murder, there are few crimes that carry as heavy a penalty as perjury. The German theory is that the entire system of jurisprudence rests on the respect for an oath administered under the forms of law and that this must be strictly guarded in order to secure the punishment of other crimes and insure justice in civil cases. Germany stands at one extreme and the United States at the other. Fewer people are punished in the United States for false swearing in the witness box than in any other country.—London Telegraph.

Hard Hit.

Lord Fitzdoodle, casting himself on his knees before Araminta, gave utterance to the following: "Oh, that I could snatch a pine from some primeval forest! I would sharpen the end with my penknife, dip it in the molten crater of Vesuvius and write upon the azure wall of heaven in letters of living fire, 'Araminta, I love thee!'"

Theory and Practice.

"Dinglebat has original ideas about family government. He says every home should be a little republic, where universal toleration prevails and every one has a voice in the government."

"Yes; his family is managed on that plan. But he and Mrs. Dinglebat have the same old wrangle every day as to who shall be president."

The Foolish Man.

"I see," said the landlady, "that a man in Ohio has got himself into trouble by marrying two women."

"Huh!" growled the bachelor boarder. "Just as though one wife couldn't make trouble enough!"—Chicago News.

Calmness.

Remember on every occasion which leads thee to vexation to apply this principle—that this is not a misfortune, but that to bear it nobly is good fortune.—Marcus Aurelius.

His Own Sphere.

"You a doctor! Why, nobody in his senses would employ you!"

"Perhaps not, but I'm going to be a doctor to lunatics!"

High Birth is a poor dish on the table.

For Evening Hours The Rayo Lamp

Some of the sweetest hours of home-life are passed under the gentle, kindly light of the evening lamp.

If it be the Rayo Lamp, the light contributes an added charm—makes reading and sewing easy. There are no aching eyes after reading or sewing under the rays of the Rayo Lamp.

The Rayo Lamp diffuses a steady white light. It is the least trying of any artificial light. Made of brass throughout—nickel plated—improved central draught burner.

The Rayo is a low-priced lamp, but you cannot get a better lamp at any price.
